

Marte Meo – On your own strength

Learn to understand and read the message behind the problem behavior!!

On May 13 in 2020, we have the honor to welcome Maria Aarts for her first time to Kristianstad in south of Sweden.

With a sharp eye Maria guides her audience through films of everyday life interaction moments so that everyone can understand and assimilate her knowledge in their own professional practice. Maria will present her own films from school, preschool, family treatment, special school or other activities for people with disabilities and dementia care. By mixing films from different activities, she gives the audience a greater understanding of how similar our needs are through life. How we can create development, consensus and harmony with our approach. We respond easily to the problem-creating behaviors and fail to read the developmental message that is hiding behind the behavior. That message will Maria teach us to see this day and how we can support development in daily interaction moments.. Maria has the gift to see the important things in relationships and interaction and makes the difficult things to get simple and concrete.

This day is special for all professionals who have daily interaction moments with children or clients , such as daycare/ school or families or being personal assistant for people with any kind of disabilities or other similar kind of work.

When: 13 May 09.00-15.00

Where: Kristianstad, Skåne, Sweden

About What: Learn to read the developmental message behind the problem behavior